Meccan Trade and the Rise of Islam Patricia Crone, 2004 Patricia Crone reassesses one of the most widely accepted dogmas in contemporary accounts of the beginnings of Islam the supposition that Mecca was a trading center In addition she seeks to elucidate sources on which we should reconstruct our picture of the birth of the new religion in Arabia The Formation of Islam Jonathan P. Berkey, 2003 Jonathan Berkey's 2003 book surveys the religious history of the peoples of the Near East from roughly 600 to 1800 CE The opening chapter examines the religious scene in the Near East in late antiquity and the religious traditions which preceded Islam Subsequent chapters investigate Islam's first century and the beginnings of its own traditions the classical period from the accession of the Abbasids to the rise of the Buyid amirs and thereafter the emergence of new forms of Islam in the middle period Throughout close attention is paid to the experiences of Jews and Christians as well as Muslims The book stresses that Islam did not appear all at once but emerged slowly as part of a prolonged process whereby it was differentiated from other religious traditions and indeed that much that we take as characteristic of Islam is in fact the product of the medieval period Meccan Trade Prior to the Rise of Islam Salamah Salih Syalayman Aladieh, 1991 Meccan Trade and Islam Róbert Simon, 1989 The Arabs and Arabia on the Eve of Islam F.E. Peters, 2017-09-29 This volume examines the background to the rise of Islam The opening essays consider the broad context of nomad sedentary relations in the Near East thereafter the focus is on the Arabian peninsula and the history of the Arab peoples The following papers set out the political and economic structures of the pre Islamic period and are concerned to trace the evolution of religious beliefs in the area looking in particular at the role of local traditions and the impact of Jewish and Christian influences Global Trade in the Early Medieval World Toslima Khatun, 2025-02-18 Exploring the movement of peoples perfumes and spices across vast distances in this period of medieval history across Asia the Middle East and Europe this book examines the role of Arab merchants in trade between and among the Caliphal and Carolingian elites The study of the trade in perfumes and spices highlights the relationship between the South Asian subcontinent and the Caliphate It is shown that the societies involved in this intercontinental maritime trade intermingled through the demand for goods and products which allowed for the transmission of ideas and learning Crucially the Eurasian end of these trading routes were tapping into pre existing networks of trade as there is evidence that there were links of trade between East Asia and the near and Middle East as early as the seventh century B H first century A D Thus the book challenges the Eurocentric worldview which fails to take into account that the Europeans in the late medieval period came into a pre existing trading network This book will be of interest to readers in economic history as well as the history of trade globalisation South Asia the Middle East and the Medieval world Lingua Franca in the Mediterranean J. E. Wansborough, 2013-12-16 The subject of this study is the language of commerce and diplomacy during the period from 1500 BCE to 1500 CE Based on texts of chancery provenance its aim is the identification of a linguistic sub system that effected and informed the major channel of international relations The standard procedures of contact and exchange generated a format that facilitated inter lingual transfer of concepts and terms Lingua Franca refers to the several natural languages that served as vehicle in the transfer but also to the format itself Land and Trade in Early Islam Hugh Kennedy,Fanny Bessard,2025-01-20 Land and Trade in Early Islam discusses the latest developments in the field of early Islamic economic and social history and explores the notion of polycentrism and the dialectic between global and local between 700 and 1050 CE The volume explores the political mechanisms and the role of Islamic states in regulating and developing demand in the economy The chapters question the binary of core periphery and demonstrate how the growing scholarship on the liminal regions of the Caliphate has transformed our understanding of the early Islamic world by offering a more nuanced picture of its regional urban and socio economic dynamics Changes in the peripheries of the early medieval Caliphate have traditionally been conceived as resulting from initiatives by the core An increased focus on the comparatively under explored regions in central Asia north Africa south east Asia and the Caucasus has thrown this into question Land and Trade in Early Islam draws on this growing body of scholarship to question the notion of peripherality explore lines of economic influence and interdependence and to better understand the regional economic social and political dynamics of this period The New Cambridge History of Islam: Volume 1, The Formation of the Islamic World, Sixth to Eleventh Centuries Chase F. Pre-Islamic Arabia Valentina A. Grasso,2023-02-23 This book delves into the political and cultural developments of pre Islamic Arabia focusing on the religious attitudes of the inhabitants of the Arabian Peninsula and its northern extension into the Syrian desert Between the third and the seventh century Arabia was on the edge of three great empires Iran Rome and Aksum and at the centre of a lucrative network of trade routes Valentina Grasso offers an interpretative framework which contextualizes the choice of Arabian elites to become Jewish sympathisers and or convert to Christianity and Islam by probing the mobilization of faith in the shaping of Arabian identities For the first time the Arabians of the period are granted autonomy from marginalizing mostly Western narratives framing them as barbarians inhabiting the fringes of Rome and Iran and or deterministic analyses in which they are depicted retrospectively as exemplified by the Muslims definition of the period as Jahiliyah ignorance

An Islamic Reformation? Michaelle Browers,Charles Kurzman,2004-01-01 This book brings together scholars with expertise in modern Islamic thought and practice to evaluate the claim that we are witnessing something tantamount to an Islamic Reformation by assessing the character and impact of various reformist trends in the Middle East and North Africa Each chapter also addresses the question of the appropriateness and usefulness of comparisons between Christian and Islamic or Western and Eastern reformations

Controversies over Islamic Origins Mun'im Sirry,2021-06-21 What evidence do we have to reconstruct the origins of Islam On the basis of what sources can the first century of Islam be accessed Why do historians of early Islam consider the literary sources of Islamic origins to be so problematic How is the problem of early Islamic history framed This book addresses these critical questions by discussing various approaches to the problem of reconstructing Islamic origins In a spirit of welcoming diverse perspectives and encouraging healthy scholarly debate it explores different even conflicting modern theories about the emergence of Islam through various case studies including recent debates on the Qur'an and the biography of the Prophet and early conquest narratives. A broad spectrum of both traditionalist and revisionist scholarship is critically examined with the purpose of illuminating not only how modern scholars differ but also what they have in common.

Daily Life in the Medieval Islamic World James E. Lindsay, 2005-06-30. From the time of its birth in Mecca in the 7th century C.E., Islam and the Islamic world rapidly expanded outward, extending to Spain and West Africa in the west and to Central Asia and the Indian Subcontinent in the east. An examination of the daily life in these Islamic regions provides insight into a civilized, powerful, and economically stable culture where large metropolitan centers such as Damascus, Baghdad, and Cairo thrived in many areas, including intellectual and scientific inquiry. In contrast with medieval Europe, there is little common knowledge in the West of the culture and history of this vibrant world as different from our own in terms of the political, religious, and social values it possessed, as it is similar in terms of the underlying human situation that supports such values. This book provides an intimate look into the daily life of the medieval Islamic world and is thus an invaluable resource for students and general readers alike interested in understanding this world so different and yet so connected to our own. Chapters include discussions of the major themes of medieval Islamic history: Arabia, the world of Islamic origins, warfare and politics, the major cities of Damascus, Baghdad, and Cairo, religious rituals and worship, and a section on curious and entertaining information. Author James E. Lindsay further provides a focused look at the daily lives of urban Muslims during this time period and of their interactions with Jews, Christians, and other Muslims. Timelines, tables including a calendar conversion to align the Islamic lunar and the Christian solar dates, and a dynastic table highlighting the major genealogies of the ancient ruling families, a bibliography, and a glossary of important dates and technical terms are also provided to assist the reader.

Encyclopedia of World Trade: From Ancient Times to the Present Cynthia Clark Northrup, Jerry H. Bentley, Alfred E. Eckes, Jr., Patrick Manning, Kenneth Pomeranz, Steven Topik, 2015-04-10. Written for high school or beginning undergraduate students, this four-volume reference valiantly attempts to provide a historical framework for the perhaps overly broad concept of world trade. Entry topics were selected on trade organizations, influential people, commodities, events that affected trade, trade routes, navigation, religion, communication.

The Two Falls of Rome in Late Antiquity James Moreton Wakeley, 2017-12-11. This book offers a radical perspective on what are conventionally called the Islamic Conquests of the seventh century. Placing these earthshattering events firmly in the context of Late Antiquity, it argues that many of the men remembered as the fanatical agents of Muhammad probably did not know who the prophet was and had in fact previously fought for Rome or Persia. The book applies to the study of the collapse of the Roman Near East techniques taken from the historiography of the fall of the Roman West. Through a comparative analysis of medieval Arabic and European sources combined with insights from frontier studies, it argues that the two falls of Rome involved processes far more similar than traditionally thought. It presents a fresh approach to the century that witnessed the end of the ancient world, appealing to students of Roman and medieval history, Islamic Studies, and advanced scholars alike      Byzantium and the Arabs in the Sixth Century Irfan Shahîd, 1995 This fourth installment of Byzantium and the Arabs in the Sixth Century resumes the previous volume's discussion of the Ghassanids by examining their economic, social, and cultural history. First, Irfan Shahîd focuses on the economy of the Ghassanids and presents information on various trade routes and fairs. Second, the author reconstructs Ghassanid daily life by discussing topics as varied as music, food, medicine, the role of women, and horse racing. Shahîd concludes the volume with an examination of cultural life, including descriptions of urbanization, Arabic script, chivalry, and poetry. Throughout the volume, the author reveals the history of a fully developed and unique Christian Arab culture. Shahîd exhaustively describes the society of the Ghassanids and their contributions to the cultural environment that persisted in the Orient during the sixth century and continued into the period of the Umayyad caliphate.

Remapping Emergent Islam Carlos A. Segovia, 2025-10-01 This multidisciplinary collective volume advances the scholarly discussion on the origins of Islam. It simultaneously focuses on three domains: texts, social contexts, and ideological developments relevant for the study of Islam's beginnings, taking the latter expression in its broadest possible sense. The intersections of these domains need to be examined afresh in order to obtain a clear picture of the concurrent phenomena that collectively enabled both the gradual emergence of a new religious identity and the progressive delimitation of its initially fuzzy boundaries.

Ecumenical Community Hamza M. Zafer, 2020-11-23 In Ecumenical Community, Hamza M. Zafer explores the language and politics of community formation in the Qur'an. Zafer proposes that ecumenism, or the inclusivity of social difference, was a key alliance-building strategy in the western Arabian proto-Muslim communitarian movement, 1st–7th century. The Proto-Muslims imagined that their pietistic community, the ummah, transcended but did not efface prior social differences based in class, clan, and custom. In highlighting the inclusive orientation of the Qur'an's ummah-building program, Zafer provides new insights into the development of early Islam and the period preceding the Arab conquests.
