Media Violence And Christian Ethics New Studies In Christian Ethics:

Media Violence and Christian Ethics Jolyon Mitchell, 2010-02-18 How can audiences interact creatively wisely and peaceably with the many different forms of violence found throughout today's media Suicide attacks graphic executions and the horrors of war appear in news reports films websites and even on mobile phones One approach towards media violence is to attempt to protect viewers another is to criticise journalists editors film makers and their stories In this book Jolyon Mitchell highlights Christianity's ambiguous relationship with media violence He goes beyond debates about the effects of watching mediated violence to examine how audiences producers and critics interact with news images films video games and advertising He argues that practices such as hospitality friendship witness and worship can provide the context where both spectacular and hidden violence can be remembered and reframed This can help audiences to imagine how their own identities and communities can be based not upon violence but upon a more lasting foundation of peace Moral Passion

The Dardenne Brothers' Cinematic Parables Joel Mayward, 2022-09-30 The Dardenne Brothers Cinematic Parables examines the work of Belgian filmmakers Jean Pierre and Luc Dardenne who have been celebrated for their powerfully affecting social realist films Though the Dardenne brothers films rarely mention religion or God they have received wide recognition for their moral complexity and spiritual resonance This book brings the Dardennes filmography into consideration with theological aesthetics Christian ethics phenomenological film theory and continental philosophy The author explores the brothers nine major films beginning with The Promise 1996 and culminating in Young Ahmed 2019 through the hermeneutics of philosopher Paul Ricoeur By using Ricoeur s description of parable as a narrative metaphor which generates an existential limit experience Joel Mayward crafts an innovative Ricoeurian hermeneutic for making theological interpretations of cinema Drawing upon resources from three disciplinary spheres theology philosophy and film studies in a dynamic interweaving approach Mayward proposes that the Dardennes create postsecular cinematic parables which evoke theological and ethical responses in audiences imaginations through the brothers distinctive filmmaking style what is termed transcendent realism The book ultimately demonstrates how the Dardenne brothers are truly doing not merely depicting theology and ethics through the cinematic form it presents film as theology what Mayward refers to as theocinematics This is valuable reading for scholars of theology philosophy and film studies as well as film critics and cinephiles interested in the cinema of the Dardenne brothers
