Merchants and Migrants in Nineteenth-century Beirut Leila Tarazi Fawaz, 1983      Religious Minorities in the Middle East Anh Nga Longva, Anne Sofie Roald, 2011-11-11 Focusing on the situation of both Muslim and non Muslim religious minorities in the Middle East this volume offers an analysis of various strategies of resilience and accommodation from a historical as well a contemporary perspective      The Rowman & Littlefield Handbook of Christianity in the Middle East Mitri Raheb, Mark A. Lamport, 2020-12-15 This work represents the current and most relevant content on the studies of how Christianity has fared in the ancient home of its founder and birth Much has been written about Christianity and how it has survived since its migration out of its homeland but this comprehensive reference work reassesses the geographic and demographic impact of the dramatic changes in this perennially combustible world region The Rowman Littlefield Handbook of Christianity in the Middle East also spans the historical socio political and contemporary settings of the region and importantly describes the interactions that Christianity has had with other major minor religions in the region      The Routledge Handbook of the History of the Middle East Mandates Cyrus Schayegh, Andrew Arsan, 2015-06-05 The Routledge Handbook of the History of the Middle East Mandates provides an overview of the social political economic and cultural histories of the Middle East in the decades between the end of the First World War and the late 1940s when Britain and France abandoned their Mandates It also situates the history of the Mandates in their wider imperial international and global contexts incorporating them into broader narratives of the interwar decades In 27 thematically organised chapters the volume looks at various aspects of the Mandates such as The impact of the First World War and the development of a new state system The impact of the League of Nations and international governance Differing historical perspectives on the impact of the Mandates system Techniques and practices of government The political social economic and cultural experiences of the people living in and connected to the Mandates This book provides the reader with a guide to both the history of the Middle East Mandates and their complex relation with the broader structures of imperial and international life It will be a valuable resource for all scholars of this period of Middle Eastern and world history      The I.B. Tauris Handbook of Sociology and the Middle East Fatma Müge Göçek, Gamze Evcimen, 2022-11-17 What we understand by the Middle East has changed over time and across space While scholars agree that the geographical core of the Middle East is the Arabian Peninsula the boundaries are less clear How far back in time should we go to define the Middle East How far south and east should we move on the African continent And how do we deal with the minority religions in the region and those who migrate to the West Across this handbook s 52 chapters the leading sociologists writing on the Middle East share their standpoint on these questions Taking the featured scholars as constitutive of the field the handbook reshapes studies on the region by piecing together our knowledge on the Middle East from their path defining contributions The volume is divided into four parts covering sociologists perspectives on Social transformations and social conflict from Israel Palestine and the Iranian

Revolution to the Arab Uprisings and the Syrian War The region's economic religious and political activities including the impact of the spread of Western modernity the effects of neo liberalism and how Islam shapes the region's life and politics People's everyday practices as they have shaped our understanding of culture consumption gender and sexuality The diasporas from the Middle East in Europe and North America which put the Middle East in dialogue with other regions of the world The global approach and wide ranging topics represent how sociologists enable us to redefine the boundaries and identities of the Middle East today

Racialization Karim Murji, John Solomos, 2005 Racialization has become one of the central concepts in the study of race and racism It is widely used in both theoretical and empirical studies of racial situations There has been a proliferation of texts that use this notion in quite diverse ways It is used broadly to refer to ways of thinking about race as well as to institutional processes that give expression to forms of ethno racial categorization An important issue in the work of writers such as Robert Miles for example concerns the ways in which the construction of race is shaped historically and how the usage of that idea forms a basis for exclusionary practices The concept therefore refers both to cultural or political processes or situations where race is invoked as an explanation as well as to specific ideological practices in which race is deployed It is evident however that despite the increasing popularity of the concept of racialization there has been relatively little critical analysis exploring its theoretical and empirical usages It is with this underlying concern in mind that Racialization Studies in Theory and Practice brings together leading international scholars in the field of race and ethnicity in order to explore both the utility of the concept and its limitations

Women and the City, Women in the City Nazan Maksudyan, 2014-09-01 An attempt to reveal recover and reconsider the roles positions and actions of Ottoman women this volume reconsiders the negotiations alliances and agency of women in asserting themselves in the public domain in late and post Ottoman cities Drawing on diverse theoretical backgrounds and a variety of source materials from court records to memoirs to interviews the contributors to the volume reconstruct the lives of these women within the urban sphere With a fairly wide geographical span from Aleppo to Sofia from Jeddah to Istanbul the chapters offer a wide panorama of the Ottoman urban geography with a specific concern for gender roles

Fictitious Capital Elizabeth M. Holt, 2017-07-11 The ups and downs of silk cotton and stocks syncopated with serialized novels in the late nineteenth century Arabic press Time itself was changing Novels of debt dissimulation and risk begin to appear in Arabic at a moment when France and Britain were unseating the Ottoman legacy in Beirut Cairo and beyond Amid booms and crashes serialized Arabic fiction and finance at once tell the other's story While scholars of Arabic often write of a Nahdah a sense of renaissance Fictitious Capital argues instead that we read the trope of Nahdah as Walter Benjamin might have as one of the monuments of the bourgeoisie that are already in ruins Financial speculation engendered an anxious mixture of hope and fear formally expressed in the mingling of financial news and serialized novels in such Arabic journals as Al Jin n Al Muqtataf and Al Hil l Holt recasts the historiography of the Nahdah showing its sense of rise and renaissance to be a utopian imperially mediated narrative of capital that encrypted its inevitable counterpart capital flight      City of Black Gold Arbella Bet-Shlimon, 2023-05-25 This fine social history of the city of Kirkuk in northern Iraq traces a century of political upheaval John Waterbury Foreign Affairs

Kirkuk is Iraq's most multilingual city for millennia home to a diverse population It was also where in 1927 a foreign company first struck oil in Iraq Over the following decades Kirkuk became the heart of Iraq's booming petroleum industry City of Black Gold tells a story of oil urbanization and colonialism in Kirkuk and how these factors shaped the identities of Kirkuk's citizens forming the foundation of an ethnic conflict Arbella Bet Shlimon reconstructs the twentieth century history of Kirkuk to question the assumptions about the past underpinning today's ethnic divisions In the early 1920s when the Iraqi state was formed under British administration group identities in Kirkuk were fluid But as the oil industry fostered colonial power and Baghdad's influence over Kirkuk intercommunal violence and competing claims to the city's history took hold The ethnicities of Kurds Turkmens and Arabs in Kirkuk were formed throughout a century of urban development interactions between communities and political mobilization Ultimately this book shows how contentious politics in disputed areas are not primordial traits of those regions but are a modern phenomenon tightly bound to the society and economics of urban life Praise for City of Black Gold Blending smooth storytelling and sharp analysis Arbella Bet Shlimon challenges readers to rethink much of what passes as conventional wisdom about Iraq and about power oil and ethnicity in the twentieth century A wonderful book richly documented accessible and creative Toby C Jones Rutgers University City of Black Gold is essential for anyone interested in the modern history of Iraq and the roots of the standoff between the government in Baghdad and the Kurdistan regional government Written with care and sensitivity Arbella Bet Shlimon's history of Kirkuk is a delight to read Joost Hiltermann Middle East and North Africa Program Director International Crisis Group This remarkable study of Kirkuk uncovers the ways in which the city became and did not become part of the Iraqi state Arbella Bet Shlimon bravely covers silenced histories as she encourages us to look at Iraqi history through its northern urban peripheries A fascinating urban history Orit Bashkin University of Chicago

Environmental Histories of the First World War Richard P. Tucker, Tait Keller, J. R. McNeill, Martin Schmid, 2018-08-23 This anthology surveys the ecological impacts of the First World War Editors Richard P Tucker Tait Keller J R McNeill and Martin Schmidt bring together a list of experienced authors who explore the global interactions of states armies civilians and the environment during the war They show how the First World War ushered in enormous environmental changes including the devastation of rural and urban environments the consumption of strategic natural resources such as metals and petroleum the impact of war on urban industry and the disruption of agricultural landscapes leading to widespread famine Taking a global perspective Environmental Histories of the First World War presents the ecological consequences of the vast destructive power of the new weaponry and the close collaboration between militaries and civilian governments taking place during this time showing how this war set trends for the rest of the century

Golden Roads: Migration, pilgrimage Ian Richard Netton, 2024-11-01 Essays on themes migration pilgrimage and travel as old as Islam itself and integral in the development of a cosmopolitan Islamic social order embracing much of Africa and Eurasia

Sacred Law in the Holy City Judith Mendelsohn Rood, 2020-11-09 The Muslim community's political and socio-economic role in Jerusalem under Ottoman administration during the 1830s is analyzed in this volume from a natural law perspective A bitter political contest between Sultan Mahmud II and Muhammad Ali Pasha resulted in the military occupation of Syria and imposition of a brutal new political and legal regime which crushed the indigenous elites of southern Syria Through a careful analysis of the archives of the Islamic law court of Jerusalem the study offers a fresh appraisal of how the Ottoman Empire ruled Jerusalem and considers the Muslim response elucidating the reasons for the breakdown of their relations with non-Muslim Ottoman subjects and differentiating the Ottoman understanding of law and government from that of their enemies the Wahhabis

Historical Dictionary of Lebanon Tom Najem, Roy C. Amore, 2021-06-15 Historical Dictionary of Lebanon Second Edition covers the long history of Lebanon from before the Ottoman era through the Ottoman Era the French Mandate Independence the long civil war and the recent protests for democratic reform and the aftermath of the explosion in the port area It features lengthy entries on major historical political events as well as the major people sectarian groups and political parties It contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 800 cross-referenced entries on important personalities as well as aspects of the country's politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Lebanon

A Critical Political Economy of the Middle East and North Africa Joel Beinin, Bassam Haddad, Sherene Seikaly, 2020-12-22 This book offers the first critical engagement with the political economy of the Middle East and North Africa Challenging conventional wisdom on the origins and contemporary dynamics of capitalism in the region these cutting-edge essays demonstrate how critical political economy can illuminate both historical and contemporary dynamics of the region and contribute to wider political economy debates from the vantage point of the Middle East Leading scholars representing several disciplines contribute both thematic and country-specific analyses Their writings critically examine major issues in political economy notably the mutual constitution of states markets and classes the co-constitution of class race gender and other forms of identity varying modes of capital accumulation and the legal political and cultural forms of their regulation relations among local national and global forms of capital class and culture technopolitics the role of war in the constitution of states and classes and practices and cultures of domination and resistance Visit politicaleconomyproject.org for additional media and learning resources

Struggle and Survival in the Modern Middle East Edmund Burke (III), Edmund Burke (III.), 1993 Until now we have known very little of the lives of ordinary Middle Eastern men and women despite extensive research on the modern Middle East With this collection of essays the life stories of peasants villagers pastoralists and urbanites can finally be heard no more will our view of the Middle East be seen only over the shoulders of the elite These twenty-four biographies are drawn from the entire Middle East from

Morocco to Afghanistan and provide vantage points from which to understand modern Middle Eastern history from the bottom up Spanning the past 150 years and reflecting important transformations the stories challenge elite centered accounts of what has occurred in the Middle East and illuminate hidden corners of a largely unrecorded world The essays divided chronologically provide a comprehensive framework for those unfamiliar with Middle Eastern social history Pre Colonial Lives covers the period from 1850 until World War I Colonial Lives chronicles the beginning of European rule and Contemporary Lives relates the massive changes of the postwar era Through them we see how specific ecologies ways of life ethnic class and gender situations can shape individual human action      Lebanon William Harris,2012-07-11 The book explores the affairs of Mount Lebanon and its surrounds through fourteen centuries beginning with the emergence of its Christian Muslim and Islamic derived communities between the sixth and eleventh centuries Against this backdrop it interprets the modern republic of Lebanon from Ottoman antecedents to present day crises      Nomads, Migrants and Cotton in the Eastern Mediterranean Meltem Töksöz,2010-09-10 This book discusses the transformation of southeast Anatolia during the 19th century The analysis which revolves around cotton production in the Adana Plain enriches our knowledge of how people from different backgrounds came together to build a new social milieu in the late Ottoman period Through the analysis of the dynamics between the multi layered processes of sedentarization Egypt s experience with cotton cultivation the extension of the cultivated area via large scale landholding patterns and the establishment of the brand new port city of Mersin this book shows how former nomads and settlers many of whom had arrived there only recently created a commercially viable region almost from scratch in an age of changing state society relations      The Urban Social History of the Middle East, 1750-1950 Peter Sluglett,2008-12-08 The great cities of the Middle East and North Africa have long attracted the attention and interest of historians With the discovery and wider use over the last few decades of Islamic court records and Ottoman administrative documents our knowledge of Middle Eastern cities between the seventeenth and early twentieth centuries has vastly expanded Drawing upon a treasure trove of documents and using a variety of methodologies the contributors succeed in providing a significant overview of the ways in which Middle Eastern cities can be studied as well as an excellent introduction to current literature in the field      Middle East Contemporary Survey, Vol. 8, 1983-84 , Utopia and Civilization in the Arab Nahda Peter Hill,2020-01-16 Examines the Nahda a cultural renaissance in the Arab world through the utopian visions of Arab intellectuals during the nineteenth century
