Revisiting the Assessment of Second Language Abilities: From Theory to Practice Sahbi Hidri, 2018-01-12 This book presents an overview of revisiting the assessment of language abilities It also showcases how the measurement of such constructs can result in negative or positive washback and how outcomes might be conducive to repercussions that decide on the future of many stakeholders The 23 chapters were selected among tens of chapters received from different contexts that addressed the issue of revisiting the assessment of language abilities such as Tunisia Ukraine Algeria Russia KSA Sudan Egypt Canada Kurdistan UK USA Iran

Turkey etc These contexts have highlighted the necessity to revisit the different constructs which should be assessed with a clear and straightforward foundation on students learning objectives and their actual language ability To do so most of the chapters present hands on use of relevant statistical tests that might serve in revisiting the construct definition both theoretically and operationally Perhaps the sole and intricate question that the authors of these contributions ask is what it means to revisit the assessment of the construct of individualized language ability and how In addition the book accentuates the momentousness and significance of reflecting on test fairness and validation as the mainspring and backbone for democratization of assessment This book appeals to a broad readership such as English Language Teaching ELT practitioners language teachers students testing organizations policy makers test designers writers of test specifications testing experts researchers program evaluators especially in the Middle East and North Africa MENA as well as other international contexts

Handbook for Arabic Language Teaching Professionals in the 21st Century Kassem Wahba, Zeinab A.
