Didier Musso

Mexico De Mil Sabores Spanish And English Edition:

Mezcal in Oaxaca Ronda L. Brulotte, 2025-04-22 An ethnography of mezcal and how it has become a global artisanal good Mezcal is booming Once considered a peasant drink the rough lowbrow cousin of the more refined tequila the smoky spirit is now prized by connoisseurs the world over It is also hailed as a savior of Oaxaca powering a craft industry that can uphold rural economies and Indigenous traditions Ronda L Brulotte traces mezcal's swift rise and its effects on communities that have distilled and enjoyed the beverage for generations Only in the late 1990s did mezcal begin to escape its longstanding associations with Indigenous and working class life even as these very qualities supply the authenticity that elite consumers crave Through a detailed ethnography of the spirits industry in Oaxaca Brulotte compares the ideal of the artisanal economy with the reality of participation in global markets Her findings focused on tourism led development and gentrification the exploitation of women and smallholders and swelling regional migration pressures raise troubling questions about the ecological and social sustainability of a new craft imaginary that rebrands rustic products as luxury goods

Edible Identities: Food as Cultural Heritage Ronda L. Brulotte, Michael A. Di Giovine, 2016-04-29 Food its cultivation preparation and communal consumption has long been considered a form of cultural heritage A dynamic living product food creates social bonds as it simultaneously marks off and maintains cultural difference In bringing together anthropologists historians and other scholars of food and heritage this volume closely examines the ways in which the cultivation preparation and consumption of food is used to create identity claims of cultural heritage on local regional national and international scales Contributors explore a range of themes including how food is used to mark insiders and outsiders within an ethnic group how the same food's meanings change within a particular society based on class gender or taste and how traditions are invented for the revitalization of a community during periods of cultural pressure Featuring case studies from Europe Asia and the Americas this timely volume also addresses the complex processes of classifying designating and valorizing food as terroir slow food or as intangible cultural heritage through UNESCO By effectively analyzing food and foodways through the perspectives of critical heritage studies this collection productively brings two overlapping but frequently separate theoretical frameworks into conversation
