Central America John Baily, 1850 John Baily was an Englishman who lived for many years in Central America He was employed in 1837-38 by the government of Nicaragua to survey a potential canal route from the Caribbean Sea to the Pacific Ocean In 1850 Baily published this book and a separate map of Central America that showed four proposed routes for an isthmian canal Central America begins with an introductory chapter on the geography history and economy of the region as a whole followed by individual chapters devoted to Guatemala El Salvador Honduras Mosquito Territory in present day Nicaragua and Honduras Nicaragua and Costa Rica Each chapter describes physical features and boundaries and provides information about inhabitants products and other features The chapter devoted to Nicaragua is by far the longest and contains a detailed discussion of the proposed route for an inter oceanic canal through the country As indicated in the subtitle Baily was convinced of the remarkable capacity for colonization of the Central American countries The book concludes with a section on immigration Baily compared agricultural conditions in Central America to those in southern Texas and argued that European farmers who settled in the region and worked hard would prosper and prepare a handsome inheritance for their posterity
